General Comment

My name is Victor Sacks, and I am a individual inventor with designs for an advanced mobile food production technology targeted for long-term disaster relief to facilitate community recover efforts. Additionally, I have a design for a commercial/industrial solar-thermal collector technology for D.O.T infrastructure applications.

As a small inventor, I cannot possibly bring these new and world changing technologies to fruition within the current predatory regulatory climate existing within the PTAB.

Please make alterations to the current regulatory statutes that will provide a fair and equitable method for small inventors to bring their inventions to light without being locked up in litigation by large corporations.

Thank you,

Victor P. Sacks
