Subject: one way or another

I have just received an email in connection to the free software foundation and asked to write to you if I am a US citizen.

I am English and have decided to contact you anyway as I often use US designed or influenced machines, whether they be MAC, PC or Linux based. I therefore feel that this is a global issue and would love to see an industry standard on what was basically a typewriter or perhaps a photographer's darkroom.

Please respond to this and pass it on as the seemingly endless legal arguments are slowing down, if not completely destroying, a lot of beautiful and harmless creativity.

I am an artist and only need a basic word program and an ability to store images, this technology was invented and utilised in one way or another hundreds of years ago. Please think about it.

Yours most certainly disappointed by this apparently mindless control.

Mark Stringer.
