Subject: San Diego ideal location for USPTO satellite office

Dear USPTO:

I am writing to encourage you to select San Diego as the location of the USPTO satellite office. Doing so would much better connect the USPTO with innovators on the West Coast. San Diego is a hub of innovation for rapidly expanding technology areas including wireless technology and biotechnology. These areas are almost certainly high growth areas for many years into the future.

An office in San Diego would also enhance Examiner retention and new Examiner recruitment as San Diego is a highly desirable location to live.

Best Regards,
